Dear Mr. Tariq:

We are all going through some crazy times right now with how our lives have been uprooted because of COVID-19. In many of my conversation with other students, student are just trying to consume what is happening and don't know what to do. They are navigating through the situation the best way they know how. What makes it more scary is the feeling of not knowing when it is going to end.

Now fold in all the students who being asked to change their educational learning environment from interacting and socializing with friends, professors and other students everyday in a classroom or while walking around campus to changing by learning and engaging all online.

This is the worst thing we have in our university life. And student and teachers are not train for online classes.

I am feeling very lucky, as FAST initiated the online classes and become first institute to start online class.

But when taking online classes alot of issues arise like the biggest issue is internet and energy crises.

To overcome these issue, FAST faculty take a good step to record the lectures and provide it to students.

And we can take lectures any time we are comfortable with. In these conditions FAST faculty works professionally. And take FAST institute on the next level as they are known for their professionalism.

We completed our semester, that because of FAST faculty. I hope faculty even work more harder in next semester to overcome all those

The good thing about FAST faculty is, FAST faculty stand with students. And no compromise on student career.
